WHICH SEAT WOULD YOU RECOMMEND FOR ROV OR OTHER OPERATORS?

Question

A question that we often hear answered by Victor Willems, Managing Director of RECARO Maritime and by listening to our many showroom visitors.

There is no doubt that the ROV sector and the move to more autonomy in the marine industry is leading to massive growth in this field.

My advice would be to visit the Crown showroom, take a look at the seats because there are so many different models to choose from, then work with their designers to find armrest and other adjustment solutions. VW

Every visitor gets the chance to see a wide variety of seats which form the basis for ROV and other operator seats with armrests tailor-made to suit the application.

Of all the seats, the Northsea and Caspian are the most popular basis seats and we would have to go with these as our recommendation too. AU

.....AND A NOTE FROM AUXANO / CMS

Take a look at the ENGINEERING page of our websites auxano.no or crownseats.co.uk

Here you will see that we will build custom solutions to your exact requirements. All this using one of the worlds most respected seat manufacturers as a basis.

No enquiry is too big OR too small.

All solutions will provide maximum comfort and reliability.
