Alioth

ROS Alioth

Elegance and sportiness coexist in this newly conceived seat on which a sinuous stainless steel accent embraces the backrest from one armrest to the other, underlining a harmonious and enveloping line. The sculptured shapes emerge precise and with perfection from a material block by subtraction of everything that appears superfluous resulting in a shape of firm and harmonious profiles.

The specially designed shell in polyethylene and stainless steel mechanisms complete a versatile seat, in leather or vinyl suited for any top-class helm environment.
