WHICH SEAT WOULD YOU RECOMMEND AS A TRADITIONAL SKIPPER CHAIR?

A question that we often hear answered by Victor Willems, Managing Director of RECARO Maritime and from our own feedback at exhibitions and showroom visits.

Question

Because of the huge range of pedestals and deck rails, at exhibitions we always start with showing visitors to the stand the seat first. The clear favourite is always the Northsea and suprisingly, this is not the most expensive choice either.

A close second is the Atlantic and there are plenty of Caspian SV's in service with all the electric adjustments and heating. AU

The Northsea is a firm favorite in Norway and the rest of Scandinavia. RECARO Maritime seats have always been a favourite amongst Superyacht skippers, where comfort and style go hand in hand.

Personally, I like the Caspian - both manual and electric versions. All our popular Captain chairs are standard in leather VW

.....AND A NOTE FROM AUXANO / CMS

Whichever seat you decide on, remember that there is a wide selection of pedestal types with hydraulic or electric height adjustment, rotation plates, footrests and deck rails.

RECARO Maritime seats also fit a wide range of existing pedestals allowing customers to enjoy the comfort of a RECARO whilst keeping their existing pedestal.
